

Reading Skills Program Popular

Wilmington's unique Saturday Morning Reading Program came to a successful end, on May 27th. Children, parents and teachers viewed a film in the Wildwood School encompassing the year's activities. While refreshments were being served to the parents they spoke of the accomplishments of the program, and how they wished that the community knew more about it.

The program, a Federal project, was made possible by the so-called Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), passed by Congress. It is designed to assist children who have reading difficulties overcome their problems.

Harold Driscoll, Director of Federal Projects in the Wilmington School Department submitted the idea to the School Committee, and after approval it was developed by Miss Mary Bouteller, Reading Supervisor, and Miss Irene Sharp, of the Guidance Department. Wilmington was eligible for a total of $24,000, under the ESEA program.

As in similar federally supported activities, the government set up the guidelines for the use of funds, and to determine who was eligible. It was found that there were 130 children in Wilmington who were qualified to participate, by reason of difficulties in reading.

All the children were tested to determine the area of their reading difficulties, and to have a basis for future evaluation of the program.

Classes began last November, meeting on Saturday mornings. The classes were in groups of five to six children, and there were a total of twenty classes. All were held in the Wildwood School.

The first part of each morning program was instructional, and made use of various types of materials to assist in developing the reading skills of the child. At mid-morning a snack was served.

The second half of the morning program was usually some other form of enrichment, such as a Science Demonstration, a puppet show, slides, or movies. The group made two trips to Boston, to see the Children's Theatre presentations of The Snow Queen, and Tom Sawyer.

The experience gained by this pilot project, in Wilmington should help to improve the quality and opportunities which are offered in this program. There are, of course, many other children in Wilmington who would benefit from such a program.

The last Wilmington survivor of the Civil War was John H. Simpson, of Salem Street, North Wilmington. He died on November 5, 1943, less than six months after the above photo was taken.

A native of South Reading, (now Wakefield) he enlisted at the age of 18, on Dec. 8, 1863, and was assigned to Company D of the First Battalion of Heavy Artillery, Mass Volunteers.

Most of his Civil War service seems to have been at Fort Warren, in Boston Harbor, where he was the member of a crew which served a 15 inch Columbian gun. A picture of that gun, and its crew, is to be seen in the hall of the American Legion building.

After the war Simpson married Anna L. Swain of Wilmington, a sister of Levi Swain, who owned the Pearson Tavern, now the home of John Ellis, on Salem Street, and also the sister of Charles Swain, he who founded the Wilmington Public Library, and was the father of the Swain Sisters for whom the Swain School is named.

The Simpsons built a home across the street from the Pearson Tavern, and lived there for many years.

He was among the founders of the Wilmington Grange, and his picture is to be seen on the wall of the meeting room, in the Grange Hall.

Simpson was a member of the Reading Post of the G.A.R., and was the last member of the post. When the post was dissolved he presented to the Wilmington Post of the American Legion a set of eight Civil War rifles, which had been the property of the Reading G.A.R. Those rifles were stolen by thieves who broke into the American Legion Hall about a dozen years ago.

The cane, which Simpson is holding, in the picture, is the Boston Post Cane. The Boston Post, no longer in existence, used to present a cane to the oldest resident of each community in New England, and the Boston Post Cane was one of the most noteworthy items to be found in any community.

Tax Returns Disappoint

The 'Cherry Sheets' released by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts last week contained disappointing news for Wilmington town officials.

The 'Cherry Sheets' are the official recapitulation of moneys a community can expect from the state in any given year, and at the same time the money the town or city has to pay.

Estimated receipts according to the Wilmington Cherry Sheet is $1,051,651.50. Of this $422,794.80 is money expected to be derived from the Sales Tax.

This sales tax figure is about $240,000 less than could have been expected, using the figures given last year. Last year's figures, based on a seven month year, was $385,258.11.

In other words Wilmington last year received a revenue averaging $55,040.73 monthly, from the Sales Tax, and this year it is expected to receive about $35,482.90.

Miceli's Statement on TM Choice

Three members of the Board of Selectmen, including myself, refused to consider any applications for the position of Town Manager until after the March election because we felt that the newly-elected selectman, if there should be one, should have the right to vote for a man of his choice. In addition, Mr. Harold E. Melzar, the temporary Town Manager, was doing his usual outstanding job and had the situation well in hand.

At a legally posted meeting on Saturday, May 6, 1967, by a vote of four in favor and one member voting present, the Board of Selectmen appointed Sterling Morris of St. Albans, Vt. as Town Manager of Wilmington.

The Board had received approximately 16 applications for the position. Some of the applicants could not even be considered because they did not qualify under our charter. After screening all the applications, the Board then voted to interview three men. Mr. Morris was interviewed on March 28 with all members of the Board present. Another interview was arranged with a candidate from Connecticut, but he canceled the interview and took a position elsewhere. The third applicant from New Hampshire, was then interviewed by the Board.

It should be noted that this vacancy had been advertised from December to April, and yet we were honored with only 16 applications.

At the Selectmen's meeting of May 1 we discussed Mr. Morris. I stated that I would like to visit St. Albans without notifying Mr. Morris to find out more about him and invited other members of the board to go along. Mr. Black and I went to St. Albans on May 3 and spoke to at least nine people, among them the president of the local bank and the industrial relations head of one of the city's largest plants. Everyone we spoke to heaped praise on him and his record of accomplishments. The city seemed to be operating in excellent fashion. I also had an op-

School Awards Night Next Monday

Monday, at 7:30 pm, in the High School Gymnasium, the first Awards Night, sponsored by the Wilmington School Committee, is to be held.

About 170 High School children will be receiving awards, from the schools, and from community organizations, such as the Wilmington High School Boosters.

Most of the students are already aware of their awards, so that the parents may well be expected to attend.

Harold S. Shea, Superintendent of Schools, is to be Master of Ceremonies.

The presentation of awards will be in the following order: Ranking Scholars, Bernard P. McMahon;

Art, June E. Kulisch; Business, George M.A.M. Webber; Journalism, Joyce M. Aldrich; Mathematics, Francis P. Kelley; Music, Lorraine M. Kalil and Alfio B. Gracetta; Science, Elene W. Farallo; Attendance, Lindsay F. Bouvier Jr.; Boosters Club, Philip Nelson; and Athletic Awards, Lawrence H. Cushing.

Remarks are to be made by Arnold F. Lanni, Chairman of the Wilmington School Committee, and by Walter H. Pierce, Asst. Supt. of Schools, and a reception and dancing will follow.

Plaque at Aquaduct to Designate Civil Engineering Landmark

The Middlesex Canal, which ran from Charlestown to the City of Lowell and is one of the oldest man-made waterways in the United States, has been designated as a national historical engineering landmark by the American Society of Civil Engineers. Announcement of the canal's designation was made by Earle T. Andrews, president of the 58,000 member professional society, after a recent meeting of the ASCE Board of Directors in Seattle, Wash.

Completed in 1803 after an arduous construction that consumed nearly ten years the canal was 27 miles long. Thirty other canal companies had been started when the Middlesex was chartered in 1793, but it was the first to prove by low freight rates and expansion of traffic the urgency for widespread internal transportation on a European scale. But the canal was put out of business within two years of the opening of the Boston & Lowell Railroad in 1835.

Some important engineering 'firsts' are attributed to the canal. Primitive hydraulic cement was used in its construction, twenty years before Canvass White's famous tests on the Erie Canal. The cement was made of materials imported by schooner from the vicinity of Naples, Italy.

A wye level and rod, containing a 'magnitick needle' was the first such instrument used in America. The Middlesex also saw the first use of a steam tow boat in the United States, a boat which was constructed in Winchester, and was prominent in a famous trial which saw the Fulton steamboat monopoly broken in the United States. The tow boat was launched in 1812 and was equipped with a $5,000 twenty horsepower Oliver Evans engine. After making a passage from Winchester to Lowell, via the canal, it operated for many years on the Merrimack River.

At the threshold of its golden years the Middlesex was studied in 1817 by the Canal Commissioners of New York State, who were about to build the Erie Canal.

The men who built the canal were distinguished leaders of the 18th century - Colonel Loammi Baldwin of Woburn, who was General Washington's Chief of Engineers; James Sullivan, later a Governor of Massachusetts, and General Henry Knox, who was a prominent Artillery Officer of the Revolution, and later was Secretary of the Army.

One of the Incorporators was Samuel Jaques of Wilmington, one of Wilmington's early Postmasters, who lived where the new telephone building is located today.

Little remains of the old canal, except in Wilmington. The most impressive sight still in existence is the Shawsheen River Aqueduct, with its stone abutments of Chelmsford granite still standing 35 feet above the river at the Wilmington-Billerica line, on Shawsheen Avenue. The Town of Wilmington rebuilt another aqueduct, that over the Maple Meadow Brook during the WPA days of the early 1930's and it may be seen in the Wilmington Town Park. Also to be seen in the Town Park is the famous 'Oxbow Curve' where the canal wound around a hill which was later to become the site of the Town Farm.

The Shawsheen Aqueduct, which is owned by the Billerica Historical Association, is to be the site of a civil engineering landmark plaque. A presentation ceremony is to be held there on August 5th, during the Middlesex Canal Association's field tour and meeting, to be held jointly with the Canal Society of New York State and the Pennsylvania Canal Society.

The Middlesex Canal is the second American canal to be officially designated by the ASCE as a national historic civil engineering landmark. The Erie Canal of New York State was designated earlier this year, with dedication ceremonies to be held on July 4th during its sesquicentennial celebration. Two bridges have also been named landmarks - the Bollman Truss Bridge in Savage, Maryland, and the Bidwell Bar Suspension Bridge, near Oroville, California.

The American Society of Civil Engineers was founded in 1852 and is the oldest national engineering society in the United States. Headquarters are in New York City.

tunity to speak with his wife and one of his daughters, who were surprised to see us. Mr. Morris was out of town for the day.

Mr. Black and I sat down, compared notes, and came up with the same answer. This man was outstanding in every respect. He had the potential to become one of the best Town Managers which Wilmington ever had.

I then posted a meeting for Saturday, May 6, at which time we reported our findings to the Board and recommended that Mr. Morris be hired. The motion to hire him was made by Mr. Black and seconded by Mr. Boylen (I might also add that Mr. Boylen and Mrs. Drew were ready to hire Mr. Morris even prior to this time).

As far as the $14,000 salary is concerned, the majority of the Board of Selectmen feels that the position and the responsibilities inherent in this position warrant such a salary.

I am quite sure that after having read this account of the efforts the Board made in securing a town manager for Wilmington, the townspeople will agree that our approach was not sudden and hurried but deliberate and accurate to make certain that we had a man who was capable of performing all the duties which the Town Manager Act designates to him, a man who thinks for himself, an able executive for the Town.

MARY DENAULT'S FLOWERS

Mrs. Mary Denault, Town Treasurer, and Temporary Town Manager for the past two weeks has a story about what was perhaps her last decision as a Temporary Town Manager, during the past two weeks.

On the morning of May 23rd she noticed the little flower bed in front of the Town Hall had no flowers yet. She asked the Supt. of the Cemetery to get some flowers planted there.

That gentleman, Francis Downs, told her that under the re-organization of the Town Departments the job should go to the attention of Fred Jaeschke, Supt. of Public Buildings.

So Mary called Jaeschke, and asked that some flowers be planted. When she returned from her lunch the flower bed was full of bright gleaming flowers - dozens of long stemmed dandelions!

So Mary took off her Town Manager's hat, and when she came to signing checks that afternoon, with her Town Treasurer's hat on, she withheld her signature from one check - namely, Fred Jaeschke. She called up the bank and told them to watch for the check.

Fred meanwhile had planted a better class of flowers in the garden plot. Then he went down to the bank, just before closing time, to cash his check, only to learn the bad news!

Mary signed the check next morning. Fred is beaming, and so are the flowers.

The Knights of Columbus are having a drawing on June 3, along with the dance. Frank A. Mango is the chairman. The first prize will be $500. It will be held at the Maple Meadow Hall and the dancing will be free, when a drawing ticket is purchased. If you wish more details, give Frank a call.

I hear that the Science Museum field trip that was held last Friday for some of the Boutwell Street School children was a 'blast' and that the kids were extremely well behaved. There must be a spell cast on that school by those teachers. The fire drills and actual real thing went off without a hitch, and now a field trip without a hitch. Think those teachers should have a gold star for the work they are doing. . . Speaking of that. . .

I was privileged this week to attend the parents meeting for the Reading Course given to the slower students on Saturday morning. I wish that every parent in town had the opportunity to see the movies that were taken and the equipment with which they helped these children. Certainly we should all be proud of this curriculum and the hours of planning that must have gone into it. Thank you Mr. Driscoll and associates. Our children will benefit tremendously from this, I'm sure.

Miss Nancy Slater, daughter of Mr and Mrs Joseph Slater, 28 Grove Ave, has been initiated into Beta Pi Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority at Albion College, Albion, Michigan. Initiation took place on Sunday, May 14th at the sorority lodge.

Miss Slater, a senior, is also active in education club, and Women's Athletic Association.

Army Private Allen R Hubbard, 20, son of Mr and Mrs Earl F Hubbard Sr, formerly of Hardin St, has completed eight weeks of advanced training as a combat engineer at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Dorothy Gaskill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood E. Gaskill of Beacon Street will be among 450 to graduate this Sunday from Chamberlayne Junior College in exercises to be held at the War Memorial Auditorium in Boston. Miss Gaskill is a senior in the executive secretarial program.

Ernie Romano called to tell me that Wilmington had 676 dogs at the immunization clinic last Saturday, but that was not anywhere nearly all of the dogs that should have attended.

The new T. M., Sterling Morris, was at the Selectmen's meeting on Monday evening, and was very pleasant to meet. In case you're wondering who he is and what he looks like, he was the big fellow with the iron grey hair that was marching in between Selectmen Niles and Boylen in the Memorial Day Parade.

NEWS about our Art Festival! This is to be held on the Town Common on Saturday, June 10, and has been opened up to surrounding towns and all of New England, there is a small entry fee, but with the cash prizes and ribbons to be awarded in three classes - Traditional (portrait, landscapes, still life), Modern (abstracts), or Sculpture. These should induce you to enter your masterpiece. Pictures must be delivered to the home of Mrs. Ernest C. MacDougall, 190 Middlesex Avenue on June 7th - Wednesday. They should be ready to hang - complete with screw eyes and wire. You may get your entry blanks from any local business establishment, or call 658-2952, or 658-4709. Awards for Adult and Junior Divisions will be determined by professional jury and by popular vote.

Jim Webster of Andover St, has enlisted in the Navy and is now at Great Lakes. Jack Gagnon of Sprucewood Rd, and Pete Mazzapica of Salem St, have reported to the Air Force at Lackland AFB in Texas. Russ Brady of Woburn, whose parents live on Church St, is now on the USS Shangra-Li out of Mayport, Fla. He thinks he's headed for the Mediterranean.

The Kiwanis met on May 24, with the visiting Kiwanians Chet Richardson, Lt. Governor of division 6-West, (Hear they want him to leave his jokes at home. . . wonder about that.) and Saul Fisher, President of our sponsoring club, Wakefield-Lynnfield. The invited guests were Gordon Richburg, Paul Washburn and George Webber, all of Wilmington. (George has filled out all of the forms and paid his money, so hope the board of directors voted him in.) New members are Charlie Allgrove, Jr., and Thomas MacNamara, voted in at the last meeting. (Charlie has lived in town for the last 45 years and is a retired CPA.) The speaker was Daryl Bach of Wakefield. He talked on Industrial Advertising. Great need in the industrial field.

Joe Stone is going great guns with the Charter Night Tickets. 50% of the members have their tickets, and 3% have paid for them. Charter night is IMPORTANT, fellows, so let's make it a sellout! At the May 29 meeting, Mr Armand Tousignant of the Mass Rehabilitation Center in Lowell was the speaker. He spoke on hiring the handicapped.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN HOUSE FIRE

Heavy interior damage from fire with additional water damage resulted because of a fire in the home of Louis Doherty, on May 24th. No injuries occurred, as the family was not at home at the time of the fire. Fire trucks had to lay 2500 feet of hose to reach the home, which is at the end of Marlon St. Extension, almost down to the Baldwin Apple Monument.

The State Fire Marshall reported that the fire was probably caused by faulty wiring.

DONNA LEE YENTILE IS ENGAGED

Mr and Mrs Frank Yentile of Lowell Street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Donna Lee Yentile to Mr Jay Thomas Guttadauro, of 90 Parker Road, Wakefield.

Miss Yentile is a graduate of Wilmington High School, Class of 1965, and is employed at the American Mutual Insurance Company in Wakefield.

Mr Guttadauro has just returned from service in Vietnam, and is now employed by General Electric in Lynn. He is a graduate of Wakefield High School.

The couple are planning a January wedding.

Suppose you're in a restaurant, or just at home, and you've been served a crisp green salad topped with Roquefort dressing... or maybe you're having just Roquefort for desert. Would you ever begin to imagine that you're eating a possible substitute for penicillin? Well, you are, though it's in a pretty weak form... but then most nutrients are.

Hundreds of years before Sir Alec Fleming accidentally discovered penicillin's medicinal possibilities, the same mold was stocking common, everyday Roquefort cheese with portions of health-giving value.

Fleming just kind of pinned it down, you might say. But wouldn't it be funny if he had just happened to be devouring a cheese sandwich at the time? A sandwich made with Roquefort, of course... a penicillin fortified treat... or treatment!

Penicillin and all other modern medicines are carried for your convenience and awaiting your doctor's prescription here at Silver Lake Pharmacy... Open 9 AM to 10 PM Daily... Free Parking... Prescriptions Filled and Free Delivery... Complete Line of Baby Supplies... 24 hour film developing.

THIS WEEK'S HOUSEHOLD HINT: Make several sandwiches while supplies are handy. Wrap each in freezer paper or polyethylene bags and store in the freezing compartment. Pack in lunches frozen; they will be thawed at lunch time.

Yo Ho Ho and Another Turtle

Former Selectman Lloyd Bender and George Quinn paddled down the Ipswich River in a canoe, Sunday. They left the Wildwood Street bridge at 6:05 am and arrived at the Middleton Dam four hours later.

The trip was made with seven portages, and under 11 bridges, with 1 1/2 dunkings. There were the men report, 40 million turtles, almost that many fishermen, all kinds of Warblers, and a lot of Ducks.

The earliest trip about which the Town Crier has knowledge, down the Ipswich by boat or canoe was by the late Caleb Harriman, sometime in the 1890s. The publisher of the Town Crier and Jimmy Shine of Grove Avenue made a trip about 1951, and Dicky Allard and Jackie Bowen made two, while they were in Wilmington High, a few years ago.

There is a record of a Reading Selectman being drowned, in 1833, while he was helping to float logs down the Ipswich. The drowning occurred near the bridge on Concord Street (Lubbers Brook).

Hoodlums Convicted

Four Wilmington youths have been found guilty of Assault and Battery charges, in Woburn Court in recent weeks.

One of them, Pat Cone of Oakwood Road, had been found guilty of the same charges previously. He was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction, with sentence suspended for one year while on probation.

The three remaining youths were found guilty of Assault and Battery, two of them last Thursday before Associate Justice Lynch. The third youth was found guilty several weeks ago and turned over to the Youth Service Board because of his age.

The two found guilty last Thursday were given probation until January 1, 1968.

MUSIC TO CHARM ROTARIANS: The Wilmington Rotary was entertained, after lunch yesterday, by the Dixie Land Swingers, all High School boys. It was a part of the Junior Rotarians Day.

L to R: Dave Sonier, Drums; Ken Foberg, Trombone, and Leader; Carl Schiavone, Tuba; Angie Morlani, Saxophone; Wayne Aruda, Clarinet; and David Mason and Billy Mann, Trumpets.

JUNIOR ROTARIANS TOOK OVER: The job of conducting the luncheon and meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday.

Dave Boeri set a new record, in the amount of fines inflicted upon the Rotarians, when the total reached $10.00. Postmaster Henry Porter observed that perhaps the club would be bankrupted, and was fined another quarter, making the total $10.25.

'The Great Storm of May 1967'

Boston newspapers are referring to the sudden storm of last weekend as the 'Great Storm of May 1967', and it well may be so known to future generations.

Damages in Wilmington were minimal during the three days of wind and rain. A few trees were blown down, including some newly planted ones at the Wilmington Plaza, but only one was in a position to cause damage (see below).

A total of 2.45 inches of rain fell in Wilmington during that three day period, .10 inches of rain on May 24, .12 on Friday, and .23 on Saturday.

THE END OF THE GOWING-SWAIN HOUSE: Knocked down a week ago by a bulldozer, it was burned Thursday afternoon, during the beginning of the heavy rain.

ONE TREE DOWN: On the lawn of Charles Bowser, on Carson Ave. Damage seemed to be principally to other trees on the lawn.

THE CRAZY DAY PARADE: Of the High School Juniors just had to happen on Friday morning, when the rain was at its heaviest. Several dozen Juniors, garbed in outlandish costumes, paraded from Weinbergs Store to the High School, and caused a line of cars over a mile long to proceed at a snail's pace down Church Street, because hundreds of parents were driving children to school on account of the rain, and got caught behind the parade.

Deaths

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR HERBERT PICKERING TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Herbert Pickering, for many years a prominent Wilmington business man, will be held tomorrow at 2 pm in the South Tewksbury Methodist Church, with the Rev. Lewis Lint officiating. Burial is to follow in the family lot in the Tewksbury Cemetery.

Mr Pickering owned and operated the Wilmington Plumbing & Heating Company, on Main Street in Wilmington Square from 1944 to his retirement in 1960.

He died Monday, in the Winchester Hospital, after a long illness.

A native of Revere, he would have been 65 years old on September 30th.

He was a Plumbing Inspector of Wilmington for many years, and was a past president of the Rotary Club of Wilmington. He was also a member of the Wamesit Lodge of Masons, the Wilmington Eastern Star, the Massachusetts Consistory of Shriners and Aleppo Shrine.

He was a member of the South Tewksbury Methodist Church, and of the Men's Club of the church, a member of the Wilmington-Tewksbury Lodge of Elks No. 2070, and of the Lynn Yacht Club and the US Coast Guard Power Squadron. He was also a member of the First Investment Corp of Wilmington.

A resident of the Wilmington-Tewksbury area for 35 years, he is survived by his widow, the former Elsie Cooley.

Arrangements are by the Farmer & Dee Funeral Home, 16 Lee Street, Tewksbury. Visiting Hours at the Funeral Home are from 2 to 4 pm and from 7 to 9 pm today

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR ALICE V FLEMING

Alice V (Peterson) Fleming, wife of John J Fleming of 287 South St. So. Tewksbury died at the St. Joseph's Hospital in Lowell last Friday, after a short illness.

48 years old at the time of her death, she was a native of Boston and had lived at her South Street address for the past 17 years. Beside her husband, John, she is survived by eight children, John, of the US Army Airborne, Richard of Lowell, Ronald, James, Virginia, Brian, Paul and Patricia, all of Tewksbury.

The funeral was held from the W S Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home 374 Main St. Wilmington on May 29th at 9:15 am, followed by a High Mass of Requiem at St. Dorothy's Church at 10 am, celebrated by the Rev. John D'Arcy. Burial followed in the family lot in Tewksbury Cemetery, with Father D'Arcy offering the committal prayers. Pall bearers were: James Fleming, Michael Flemming, Richard LeFebvre, Robert Brennan, Paul Buchino, and James Buchino.

ARTHUR CRANE WAS 87 YEARS OLD

Arthur R. Crane died at the Tewksbury Hospital on May 29th, after a lengthy illness.

87 years old, a native of Sanford, New York, he had made his home for several years with Mr and Mrs Leonard Chisholm of Hopkins Street.

Funeral services were held at the W S Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main Street yesterday at 1 pm with the Rev. Lewis Lint of the So. Tewksbury Methodist Church officiating. Internment took place in Anthony Cemetery, N. Sanford, N.Y.

It was an excellent Memorial Day Parade.

The line of march was over 1 1/2 miles long. There were thousands of spectators. The lawns were freshly trimmed, and the streets were clean. The Wildwood Cemetery was immaculate.

The parade was lead by a dozen policewomen, trim in their blue uniforms, and marching smartly. They were followed by the Colors and Color Guards of the Nee-Ellsworth Post, VFW and Parade Marshall Thomas O'Connors, VFW.

Wilmington's new Town Manager, Sterling Morris, flanked by Selectmen Paul Niles and George Boylen, marched behind Connors. It is believed that Morris is the first Town Manager to take part in a Memorial Day Parade, since 1952 when Dean Cushing marched.

Mrs. Wavie Drew, Gold Star Mother and Selectman, and Selectman Charles Black rode behind the other Selectmen, but Selectman Jim Miceli rode by himself, further back, seated on the back of the back seat of an open car.

The Wilmington High School Band, 100 strong, provided good marching music for the front of the parade, and the Crusader Drum & Bugle Corps provided not only good music, but excellent marching, for the second half of the parade.

There were over 700 children in the parade, including Campfire Girls and Bluebirds, Girl Scouts and Brownies, the Reading Junior Drill Team and Baton Squad, and Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts.

The only high school game within the last week was a victory for the Wildcats, 15 - 11 over Andover. Wilmington hurried across seven runs in the fifth to offset eight Andover managed the inning previous and then hung on for the win, with Annapolis-bound Mike O'Rourke getting credit in relief. Dan O'Connell spanked out three hits, while teammates Gustus, Giles, Trickett and Farrell each had a pair. The victory brought their last place record to 4 and 11.

UNRESERVED

Pony League action got under way with Warren Everett's Wildcats pouncing on Reading Allied Paint for a 10-4 triumph. Kenny Misells did the hurling and aided his own cause with his big bat, as did John McNevin.

Don Hebsch's Mavericks had two exciting encounters with Stoneham clubs, dropping the first 6-5 and winning the second 5-4. Lefty Pat Moore handled the pitching chores in both games for the Mavericks. Dan Walls poled two triples in the first game, while Moore was the batting star in the win.

The Patriots could die waiting for a stadium in Boston. Wouldn't they be better off ditching Fenway and pitching a tent over any level field 120 by 60 yards and playing to live closed T.V. The combined seating capacity and relative comfort of Boston's many theatres far outdoes Yawkey's Yard.

The Pete Richert deal is shades of the Yankees of the fifties. Any time they got a little thin on the hill they swapped a has-been or an unproven quantity for a front line starter. In spring training Gil Hodges called Richert another Sandy Koufax. Can you imagine trading Koufax for two minor leaguers?

Jim Duff former B.C. track star and Wilmington teacher slipped away from this system and had an impressive year as track coach at Wakefield.

Aren't you sorry you weren't at the Indie 500 to watch all those cars go round and round and round.

In Town Softball action, Brian Toy's two circuit clouts led National Polychemical over Valley News, 21-1 for their fourth straight win, while the steady Merri-macks, paced by the Ritchies, John and Billy, humbled the Knights, 9-1.

I wonder how the mere seven thousand in attendance at the Shamrock Rovers game enjoyed the defense accentuated 1 - 1 opener.

Tony Conigliaro's statement last week, that the armed services were picking on the big name ballplayers for reserve duty, was not the childish, unfounded remark most people interpreted it as. After all T.C. is a big name ballplayer, he has ten letters in his last name.

High School awards banquet June 5th at the high school.

Avco's softball entry in the Greater Lowell League lost a tough 11-8 verdict to first place Bournival last week, setting its record back to 6 and 2.

What's going to prevent mediocre NBA teams from losing intentionally in the 1968-1969 season in order to attain the league's worst record and as a consequence the privilege of selecting Lew Alcindor in the draft?

LITTLE LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Orioles 8 - Red Sox 6

The Orioles stayed on the heels of the league leading White Sox by edging the Red Sox 8-6. Ray Noel led the attack with a 3 run triple, as well as a strong relief performance on the mound.

Indians 7 - Tigers 7

The Indians were leading 7-2 in the last inning when the Tigers caught fire and tied it at 7 all. Kindred, Hurley and Silva led the early Indians attack. The tie will be played off at a later date.

White Sox 5 - Yankees 2

Rick Nickerson pitched the White Sox to their fourth consecutive victory. Croswell starred in the field with two unassisted double plays; he also chipped in two hits.

White Sox 9 - Tigers 7

The White Sox rolled along led by the strong pitching of 10 year old Barry Foster. John Harrison had three hits for the losers, and Bob Butters was the losing pitcher.

Tradesmen

Open Sunday

The Wilmington Tradesmen semi-pro baseball team, winners of the Carling League playoffs last summer, will open their regular season at home on Sunday against the pennant-winning Everett City Club. The game is scheduled for 2 pm on the Wilmington High School baseball diamond.

Manager Jim Tighe has not decided on his starting pitcher for the opener, principally because the townies face ten games in twelve days and he is concerned about using the staff to maximum effectiveness. Both Kevin Field and 1966 MVP Jeff Williamson will be back this year and on hand for the first game. Several other pitchers are being considered, including Lefty Mike McGrath, a fire-baller from Concord, H. H. who was 3-1 at Springfield College this spring.

First base is still somewhat of a question mark, but Jim Melzar, Pete Emery and Lynn Billings, all local boys, will round out the best infield in the League. Melzar is in his first year as a teacher in the Wilmington school system and is expected to 'take charge', especially after his experience with the Boutwell 5th graders. Pete Emery injured his shoulder earning a 'most improved hockey player' award at Colby College during the winter, but has since recovered and will be counted upon for his usual lusty hitting and steady fielding at short. Billings led his college team in hitting and is a fixture at third base.

In the outfield, Connie Barry and Jimmy Gillis will be back, but the third outfield position is up for grabs.

The Wilmington team owed its third place finish and playoff victory to good pitching and a stout defense in 1966. After getting off to a shaky 2-4 start, the team finally jelled and became the best in the League over the last half of the season.

Makeup of the Carling League will be slightly different this year. Both Waltham and Malden have dropped out, but the Boston Typos have been accepted as a new entrant. With ten teams, this means that Wilmington will play a 36-game season. A little extra support from the fans could make Wilmington the best team in the League.

SANDRA SANTOS WILL WED
WILLIAM J ETHIER

Mr and Mrs Judson Weed of 14 Green Street Marblehead have announced the engagement of their neice, Miss Sandra Carolyn Santos to William Joseph Ethier, son of Mr and Mrs Clarence Ethier of 186 Woburn Street, Wilmington. Miss Santos is the daughter of the late Mr and Mrs John Santos.

Miss Santos is a graduate of St. James High School, and is a book-keeper at the Naumkeag Trust Co in Salem.

Her fiance is a graduate of Wilmington High School, and has completed three years duty in the US Navy. He is employed at Micro-Wave in Burlington.

The wedding is planned for November 11th.

OFFICER CUOCO INJURED

Officer Joseph Cuoco of the Wilmington Police Department was injured last Thursday, when he was struck by a car driven by a Stoneham motorist, and catapulted into a trench, dug by the NE Telephone Company, for the installation of underground cable.

The accident occurred near the corner of Lowell and Woburn Sts. Officer Cuoco was on traffic duty at the time.

He is now at home, under the care of Dr. Fagan.
